Forest Fires in Michigan.

DETROIT, August 21.—Great fires are raging in the woods of Iosco county, Michigan, [illegible] the villages of East Tawas and Tawas City. The latter place is in danger.

Found in a Dissecting Room.

PHILADELPHIA, August 21.—The body of Thos. Munce, a wealthy farmer of Washington county, who left his home in the early part of July, has been found pickled in the dissecting rooms of the University. It had been sold to the College by some one connected with the morgue. The family of the deceased man was in this city to-day and identified the body. The discovery was made by finding the watch of the deceased in a pawn shop, where it had been pledged by Wm. McEwen, who was the driver of the Coroner's wagon. Munce was found drowned July 3d, and McEwen removed the body to the Morgue the same day. On the 5th it found its way into the College. McEwen has been arrested and the investigation is being pushed further. The Deputy Coroner states he holds a receipt of the Superintendent of the city burial grounds for the body. It appears that at the time of the inquest the name of the deceased was not known.

Santanta and Big Tree.

GALVESTON, August 21.—The Indian chiefs, Santanta and Big Tree, arrived at Houston yesterday, under a guard from the Penitentiary en route to Fort Sill, where a council is to be had between Secretary Delano, Gov. Davis and the Kiowa and Comanche tribes with a view to future peace.

Attempt to Rob a Paymaster Car.

ST. LOUIS, August 22.—An attempt was made, night before last, to capture the Paymaster car, on the Hannibal and St. Joe Railroad between Cameron and Kansas City, by a gang of men thought to be the same who robbed the Iowa Railroad train some time since. The engineer saw the men obstructing the track, reversed his locomotive and ran back to Cameron. Another attempt was made on Wednesday night to run a train on the Atlantic & Pacific Railroad off the track near Leavenworth, but without success. Several shots were fired at the engineer, and all the windows of his cab were broken, but he escaped.

Negroes Hanged.

BALTIMORE, August 22.—Two executions, both negroes, took place in Maryland to-day—Nevin Palmer, at Townsentown, Baltimore county, for rape, and at Baltimore city, James West, aged 23 years, was hanged for murder.

Miscellaneous.

NEW YORK, August 21.—The Central Pacific gold bonds have fallen below par in currency in this market.

Iron merchants of this city attribute the lock-out at Manchester, England, to the fact that the high price of English iron and the increased production in this country have rendered the American market almost independent of Great Britain.

A special to the New York Times, of Washington, August 21st, says: The Secretary of the Treasury authorizes your correspondent explicitly to deny all published statements regarding an alleged deficit in the Treasury. There is and has been no deficit of a dollar or a cent. The Secretary has no statement to make other than the official monthly statements which are responsible representations of the condition of the public finances.

NEW YORK, August 22.—The Produce Exchange has appointed delegates to the National Pork Packers' Convention to be held in Chicago.

Benj. B. Sherman, Chairman of the Merchants' Committee, is arranging for a mass meeting to advocate cheaper transportation between the east and west. He informed his associates that nearly five hundred prominent firms had signed the call, while many branches of trade have not been canvassed. Sherman says the movement is welcomed by all merchants with whom he conversed. He knew of no issue that had ever met with such general approbation. Canvassing for signatures to the call for a meeting will be continued until all business interests have an opportunity to be represented.

The Corporation Counsel has written to the Department of Education that Normal Schools are not entitled to any part of the money which the city raises by tax for school purposes.

John A. [illegible], a Chinaman, was sent to Ludlow street jail on the charge of attempting to swindle a cigar merchant out of $5,000 worth of cigars. The counsel for plaintiff showed how John, a short time ago, married a colored lady of means, later he obtained $7,000 from the woman, whom he sent to a Belleville laundry. Having made another thousand by his peculiar practices he attempted his operation in cigars on a Mr. Solomons.

NEW YORK, August 22.—Michael Broderick, who has been drinking for some time past, quarreled this morning with his mother-in-law, at their residence, No. 8 Carmine street. One of Mrs. Broderick's daughters becoming alarmed at his violence, called to her brothers, in an adjoining room, to save her grandmother. James, aged 19 years, endeavored to take his father away, when the latter turned upon the youth and stabbed him fatally. Another brother, John, then came upon the scene and was in turn stabbed by the maddened father, though not fatally. The cries of the family and the neighbors attracted the police who, after a severe struggle, succeeded in pinioning Broderick and taking him to the station house, where he expressed himself ignorant of any quarrel or murder having taken place. Owing to beating and excitement the old grandmother lies in a critical condition. Broderick and sons were cartmen, and frequently quarreled.

NEW YORK, August 22.—While laborers this morning were hauling down a building on West Eleventh street near Hudson street, the walls fell, killing four men instantly and wounding nine others so seriously that they are not expected to recover.

Civil suit has been begun against Carl Voght to recover $12,000 worth of property. Stephano Dewalde, relative of the murdered De Branco, is plaintiff.

NEW YORK, August 22.—The funeral services over the remains of Rev. Dr. Gardiner Spring took place in the Brick church of which he was so long pastor.

Physicians think that five of the nine men injured by the fall of the building on West Eleventh street this morning will recover. A large gang of laborers are at work clearing away debris. In addition to the killed and wounded workmen taken from the ruins they have recovered the mangled body of a boy. Criminal proceedings are to be taken against the contractor to whose carelessness the fall of the building is attributed.

Developments in the Italian Slave Trade.

In addition to the testimony in the case of the Italian boys, a deputy marshal testified that in a two hours search in Crosby street he found 150 children, and in each room 10 or 12 boys tied by the wrists with cords. There was a man in charge of every room. In some cases the children were marked by padrones by branding on the back [illegible].

WASHINGTON CITY

The Comstock Lode in Dispute.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—The Commissioner of the General Land Office decides that the adverse claim of a certain mining company to application of Bullion for a patent on the Comstock lode must be adjudicated in the courts before patent issues to the Bullion company.

Orders have been given for the preparation of the [illegible] at Mare Island for service.

Important Department Ruling.

On application of Rufus Leighton, special Treasury agent at Port Townsend, W. T., the Treasury Department made a ruling applicable to other ports of entry. He applied to know whether foreign or other ships lying at anchor in harbor would be subject to penalty if they did not report within 48 hours, whether they wished to make it their port or not. The Department ruled that [illegible] penalties.

Medals Awarded.

WASHINGTON, August [illegible].—The Bureau of Education [illegible] that Chicago and Cincinnati have [illegible] and received from the Vienna Exposition the Grand Medal of Progress for their system of education, teaching and instructing, and Cleveland and Jacksonville, Ill., were awarded Diplomas of Merit. In the one department of education, teaching and instruction, twenty-five prizes were awarded to the United States.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

Republican Victory near Berga.

MADRID, August 21.—A battle has taken place near Berga between Republicans and Carlists, which resulted in a brilliant victory for the former after a desperate conflict. The insurrectionists were utterly defeated with a loss of [illegible] killed and [illegible] wounded. Among the latter were Generals Sabolls and Tristany. The siege of Berga has been raised and the insurgents are in full retreat. Prisoners taken by the Government forces in their encounters with Cantonal and Communist insurgents are to be sent to reinforce the Spanish army in Cuba. The total strength of the Carlist force operating in the north is estimated at 28,000 of all arms.

Italian Bandits Dispersed.

ROME, August 21.—The Government has received intelligence of the dispersion of a noted band of robbers who, for a long time, operated in the vicinity of Salerno. Six brigands were killed and the rest captured.

Attempt to Release Forgers.

LONDON, August 22.—Rumors are current of an attempt to release the Bank of England forgers from Newgate by corrupting a prison official. The attempt was discovered, and the officer tampered with was arrested. Details of the affair are carefully suppressed.

LONDON, August 22.—Dispatches from Alexandria give particulars of the loss in the Red Sea, near the eastern entrance, of a freighting steamer from Singapore and Shanghai for London. The captain, officers and some of the crew were lost. Thirty-six men reached land, but fell into the hands of Somaulees and Mohammedan tribes on the shore of the Gulf of Aden, and are held prisoners.

UTAH.

E Pluribus Unum vs. Brigham.

SALT LAKE, August 22.—Judge Emerson sustained defendant's demurrer in the case of "Ann Eliza" Young vs. Brigham Young for divorce. The decision is against the jurisdiction of the District Court. The Judge held that the Probate, not the District Court, had jurisdiction in divorce cases. This is in direct opposition to the opinion of Judges McKean and Hawley, virtually of the Supreme Court of the Territory. The case again comes up before Judge McKean in October in the District Court. Rev. C. C. Stratton, Methodist minister, offers to vindicate himself in a long card in a newspaper to-day from the charge of influencing Ann Eliza Young to enter a divorce suit and join the Methodist Church. He makes grave charges against her lawyers and asserts that they attempted to fleece their client. He admits acting as confidential adviser but vindicates himself from the old charges of scandal in the ministry in Oregon. He gives the history of his connection with the effort to compromise, which was somewhat important, but as he holds not controlling. He defies the world to prove that his ministerial character was impaired. He is not ashamed of his crime and will not be badgered out of a correct nor into a false position. It is understood that the legal advisers of Mrs. Young will give their statement to-morrow. Great interest is displayed by the community. The discussion promises to be warm.

NEVADA.

Great Rain Flood.

PIOCHE, August 22.—To-day, between 3 and 4 o'clock in the afternoon, one of the heaviest storms of the kind ever witnessed in this section since Pioche had an existence was experienced. Thirty minutes after the rain commenced falling it was running down Main street two feet deep, with a terrible velocity, carrying wagons, dry goods boxes, boards, barrels, wood, cans, and articles of every description, onward in its course. Several hogs were caught by the current and drowned. A Chinaman attempting to cross was carried down the street and with difficulty rescued before he was drowned. Many houses were flooded by the water running down from the back streets. In some instances the water poured in from the back of the buildings through to the front doors and on to the street. The cellars are all full to the brim. Great damage is done. The storm lasted about an hour.

6:30 P. M.—It has just commenced raining heavily. We are promised a repetition of this afternoon's flood.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 22.—Henry Shlade was brought before the Police Court to-day for some offense, was found insane and committed to the Stockton Asylum.

The ship British [illegible] from Liverpool arrived to-day. She had a rough passage on the other side of Cape Horn, lost her sails, got salt water into her tanks and was obliged to put into Montevideo for a fresh supply.

A mass meeting will be held to-night at Platt's Hall to ratify the nominations of the Democratic Legislative Convention. Hon. Eugene Casserly is among the speakers. The other party of municipal conventionists are to ratify their nominations to-morrow night at the same hall.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 22.—The first number of the Indep[illegible] will be issued to-morrow.

A Chinese tri-monthly paper is to be issued. If the type from China [illegible] the printers will [illegible] here to manufacture it.

The Chinese heads of the six companies have made application by letter to the home Government asking the appointment of some American citizen resident here to act as Consul for this city for that people.

James Neil, who was wounded by an unknown man Tuesday night, died to-day from the effects of his injuries. He was struck on the head with some sharp instrument and was very weak from loss of blood when taken to the hospital.

Desire Chalafun, who pleaded guilty to manslaughter by killing [illegible], was sentenced to two years in State prison.

Charles Barton, colored steward of the ship [illegible], was found drowned in the bay to-day. He had been missing since Sunday.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 22.—The Democratic mass meeting at Platt's Hall was very largely attended. W. P. [illegible] presided. A letter from McCoppin was read stating his position against all kinds of subsidies. [illegible] Clark, nominee for the Senate (in the absence of Casserly), was the speaker. He went strongly against railroad monopoly and monopolies of all kinds, endorsed the course of Gov. Booth and spoke in favor of free trade and [illegible] selling property for taxes. W. W. Pendegast, of Napa, was the next speaker, followed by S. M. Taylor, when the meeting adjourned.

STOCKTON, August [illegible].—[illegible] has purchased the [illegible] newspaper published in this city.

SAN DIEGO, August 22.—The schooner [illegible] arrived this afternoon with [illegible] telegraph poles, wire and other materials for the construction of [illegible] miles of the San Diego and Arizona Military Telegraph. Work will commence next week.

A VOICE FROM WASHINGTON

WHAT AN OLD REPUBLICAN OF WASHINGTON COUNTY THINKS OF A [illegible] WHO WANTS TO [illegible] REPUBLICAN PARTY.

HILLSBORO, August 18.

To the Editor of the Oregonian:

[illegible] among the Republicans as to the proportionment of delegates to the Convention of the [illegible] the editor and the colonel who spells [illegible] are 2 enough to be satisfied when their committeeman from Forest Grove precinct was in Hillsboro and consented and advised the call but through a pressing business engagement was not able to be present at the meeting. He speaks of the hastiness of the call—only two or three days notice being given through one obscure Portland daily which does not circulate through the county. We admit the hastiness but it was done in order to get the notice for holding the primaries in the next week's Progressionist and the call for the Committee meeting was made as soon after the State Committee adjourned as could be, and from the same election as they made theirs. As to the "obscure Daily," it is simply false. Notice was sent to the DAILY OREGONIAN and Bulletin, which was promptly published, as those papers have always done by Washington county, and have as large a circulation, perhaps, as the disaffected organ which claims to be Republican. And furthermore letters were sent all over the county to the delegates to meet at that time, but perhaps with the same speed that it took a postal card to come from Forest Grove to Hillsboro only six days, and perhaps as long as the Independent traveled the same distance—only a week. But the Chairman can't help the irregularities of the mail route from Hillsboro to Forest Grove and Wapato. Delegates living in the southwestern and eastern part of the county got the word and some came and others did not, being too busy with their harvest. We presume that it has always been customary in this county to make the basis of representation from the last election and we don't see anything so very unfair in it after all.

As Republicans ought not to support any but honest men of the party, and as the best way to secure that is to put honest men in nomination for party support, we believe this to be the aim of Republicans of Washington county, and as long as that aim is attained in State affairs no harm can certainly grow out of it.

He further says, "Be not caught by such chaff, Republicans, you who had determined not to recognize a call by the bell weather committeeman (by which he means the Chairman) of the County Republican Committee." HERE WE HAVE A POSITIVE ADMISSION ON HIS PART OF AN INTENTION TO BOLT THE REPUBLICAN PARTY.

He further says: "If harmony cannot be restored in the Republican ranks, the Chairman of the Committee should resign of his own accord, but should he not do so, means should be taken by calling a mass Republican Convention and displace him by a majority vote of the Republicans of the county." In the name of common sense, what for? Hasn't he issued a call for the meeting of the County Committee? Hasn't he met at the time? Did he not over his own signature as Chairman issue a call for the primaries? What other duties, if any, belong to that office? In what has he been remiss? If the last quotation isn't the coolest piece of Southern Greeleyized disaffected bombast in the world we give it up. Josh Billings says, "I no of no law that wood prevent a man making a dam phule of hisself if he is so minded," which is certainly applicable to the Progressionist. This man calls upon the Republicans to disregard the call of their Chairman regularly made, to meet in mass convention and vote him out. He knew of the disaffection of his own crowd and their inclination to bolt the party nomination before it was made. He joined with them in their designs against the Republican party, telling them not to heed the meetings called in the regular way by their Chairman regularly chosen, to stay out and get up a mass meeting and from that stand point to proclaim themselves the Republican party. A beautiful sore-head you are, not willing to let the majority rule. By intrigue and falsifying, you aim to destroy the old party that has stood by the Government; you aim to mislead honest men, and cause them to sin against that which is sacred as the personal property of your neighbors by clasping hands with [illegible] Cornelius and his ilk in their efforts to defeat the expressed wish of a large majority of two precincts in regard to their local shipping privileges. In your and his hatred and malice towards one or two you forced one hundred farmers who humbly petitioned for a favor to travel an extra number of miles or build a road that would cost thousands of dollars through an almost impenetrable forest, over the worst ground in that section. And now to close: What must be the opinion of all in regard to a man who says voting for Crocker is no violation of Republican principles; that it is right to call a mass convention over the call already made by the Central Committee; who has no word of sympathy for the oppressed of his county, who persists in joining with those who [illegible] self more terrible and excel the dirtiest acts of his master? Already you have written your own doom—an Ishmaelite and vagabond upon the face of the earth, shunned by all and loved by none.

ONE WHO NEVER BOLTS.

THE RINGSTRASSE OF VIENNA

The central part of Vienna, the old city, was originally surrounded by a high and substantial wall and a broad ditch, between which and the thirty-four suburbs a large ground of common was laid out for military purposes. Some years ago the wall tumbled over into the ditch, and for the first time the suburbs saw their [illegible]. But how amazed they were! They had never known their own [illegible] [illegible] that in a few years the suburbs of Vienna will become true representatives of a modern city.

THE TERMINAL CITY

TACOMA, August 18.

[illegible] the terminus of the Northern Pacific [illegible] Many have [illegible] they have gratified their curiosity [illegible]. Prior to the public announcement of the location of the terminus the village of Tacoma consisted of the private residence of Gen. McCarver, a mill hotel, [illegible] and a few [illegible]. Since then there have been extemporized two restaurants, four saloons, two gambling halls, numerous card tables, several small general stores, a livery stable, two private houses and a [illegible] house. The hotel has been enlarged and [illegible] pretty comfortable. The appearance of the place is that of a small mining town of 1849, or like General Taylor's soldiers "rough and ready." There are about 300 people in the place. A number of them are bent on making money by legitimate means of trade, not a few of them are professional gamblers, and many are waiting for something to turn up. One of the worst features of the place is the erection in the rear of the town, of a large saloon and dance house—popularly known as the "mud house"—where vile squaws are being congregated for the convenience of [illegible] corrupt and vile men. This is a branch of a similar [illegible] institution at Seattle, both owned and kept by the same man. It does not say much for the social and moral tone of Seattle and Tacoma that they tolerate such public institutions of infamy. The Christian people, however, are doing something at Tacoma to counteract such evils by an extemporized church and tent where religious worship is observed at the usual times. The latter place is open to all persons during the day where newspapers, periodicals and books are available for free reading. But the labors and efforts of Christians are trifling here when compared with the zeal and earnestness of the corruptors of the race. The former are like men and women beating the air, while the latter are reaping a harvest of sin, crime and death. The old village of Tacoma, with its recent additions of good, bad and indifferent inhabitants, has nothing to do with the terminus and the town site connected with it.

The real Tacoma and what has given it a name and a place among the valuable industries of the Sound is the sawmill of Messrs. Hanson, Ackerson & Co. The mill was built by this firm in 1868 and reorganized in 1870. The site was chosen by Mr. Ackerson after a careful inspection of the eligible places on the Sound. It was he who gave the name to the place, which was suggested to his mind by the original name given by the Indians to the modern named Mount Rainier, namely, Tacoma, which means great. It is not the largest mill on the Sound, but it is one of the most complete in its general plan and minute details. Mr. Ackerson takes a general oversight of the business of the firm here, at Redwood and San Francisco, making the latter city his headquarters. He is here at present looking after the interests of the place in its transition state. A short acquaintance with him gives evidence that he is a close observer, a deep thinker and a thorough business man. Mr. Mathews is the general manager of the company at Tacoma. It is self-evident that he is the right man in the right place.

The mill has a capacity for cutting 85,000 feet of lumber in a day. It averages at least 50,000 feet every day the year round, making 300,000 feet a week, and 15,600,000 feet a year. The company ship largely to San Francisco, Callao, Peru, China and Australia. They own the ship Dashing Wave, that carries 800,000 feet of lumber. She is one of the most celebrated ships that enters the waters of the Sound. They own the ship [illegible] that loads an equal quantity of lumber. She is now on her way to San Francisco with a full cargo of lumber. They also own a small steamer for towing. This company have a large and elegant store for provisioning their ships, supplying the wants of their people, logging camps and neighboring settlers. The sales amount to more than $10,000 a month. The cottages for the workmen are neat and comfortable; the arrangements for boarding them are ample and complete; the supply of water for domestic purposes is abundant and delicious, and the water tanks and other arrangements for suppressing fire are equal to any emergency of that kind. Hitherto this establishment has been the real Tacoma.

One of the best evidences that the Directors of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company are in earnest in making Tacoma the permanent terminus on the Sound is the fact that they have purchased this mill, its wharf, store houses and 100 acres of land, for which they pay $100,000. It is most likely, however, that the mill company will lease the mill and store for some time. The great object of the railroad company in purchasing this property was to get as extensive a water frontage as possible for ample wharves, depot and machine shop buildings as well as a commanding view of the bay for the town site.

General James Tilton is Chief Engineer for laying out the town site. He says he will have it so completed by the first of September as that blocks and lots will be ready for sale at that time. The plan is on a large and grand scale. The leading streets will be eighty feet wide, the back streets will not be less than forty feet. There will be three principal avenues running the entire length of the town, a hundred feet wide each. A boulevard is to run in front of the [illegible] equally as wide as the avenues. The boulevard will be kept for [illegible] who can afford to erect fine houses. It will command a magnificent view of the bay and the grand scenery of the Cascade Coast and Olympic mountain ranges and snow peaks. Appropriate sections of the town will be set apart for warehouses to connect with the shipping, wholesale stores, retail business and private residences. A large number of acres will be reserved in the centre of the town for a beautiful park.

Theodore Hosmer, Esq., is the special agent of the railroad company at this place. His experience and competence fits him well for this post. He gives strong assurances that the Directors will make the terminus, its wharves, railroad depot, buildings, machine shops and the laying out of the town site on such an extensive and [illegible] scale as will give the public the most ample confidence that they will redeem their promises in the [illegible]. An examination of the [illegible] of

The remarks are very different from what the majority of the people at Olympia, Seattle and other places on the Sound would say of the terminus. They think that they have been tricked and sold by what they call the "land ring" in the Board of Directors that control its actions for their personal gain by land speculations along the line, of which the Sound is a striking case in point. As an example of the ill appointed feelings of the people one person said to me: "If you want your newspaper to be popular on the Sound curse the railroad." It forms no part of my business to entertain these hard feelings, however well founded they may be. I state what I have seen for myself after examining with as much care and close observation as I could command, having access to free and full conversations and explanations with the leading railroad officials here, and ample facilities afforded me of examining the plans and maps of the improvements inaugurated.

If the Directors are in earnest and determined to build a terminus and a city worthy of the magnificent gift of Congress, of the mighty waters of the Sound and of the reasonable expectations of the public, the present painful disappointments of the people and their hard feelings toward the Directors of the railroad company will soon be forgotten in the coming prosperity and future greatness of the trade and business of Puget Sound that the railroad will accomplish by opening the Territory to cheap and direct emigration, extensive settlement and cultivation of the lands, the development of its varied resources and to the markets of the world.

An important fact at the terminus is the establishment of a bank by F. P. and H. D. Cooke, under the title of Cooke Bros. They have opened a temporary office in the store of Hanson, Ackerson & Co. NORTHWEST.

THE TERRITORIES

The Salt Lake police made a raid on the gambling fraternity in that city last week and captured 27 of them, who now languish in jail.

Judge Jacobs granted at the recent term of Court in Seattle Mrs. L. H. Abbott a divorce from S. B. Abbott, who absconded a few months ago.

A Salt Lake paper complains that savings banks are starting up so numerously that it will not be long before every nickel in the community is gobbled up, and nothing left for bologna and beer.

Three companies with nearly a million dollars cash capital, principally from New York and Brooklyn, are organizing for purchasing and developing mining property in the southwestern part of Utah.

A considerable amount of improvements are under way at Chehalis Point, W. T., this season. Of most importance is a hotel for the accommodation of visitors to the seaside, who are growing more numerous every year.

Parties who intend to exhibit grain at the Western Washington Fair this fall are requested to show a small sample on the stalk, roots and all, three inches in diameter, securely bound with twine to insure against breaking, and they should carefully measure their land and grain so as to render the task of the judges easier than it has been hitherto.

GENERAL NOTES.

When the Shah presented to Earl Granville his photograph set in diamonds the earl extracted the picture, pressed it to his heart, and returned the diamonds, explaining that, much as he thanked him, his position as an English minister forbade his receiving a present from a foreign monarch. It was rather tough, but he did it.

A Washington dispatch of August 17th says: In addition to the evidence which Mr. Crowley of Illinois proposes to give in the Tichborne case, the original register of the bark Osprey has just been found at the Baltimore Custom House, which corresponds exactly with all the requirements of statements of claimant with regard to that vessel.

Peoria Review: "In a vigorous chase after rats Friday afternoon a boy on Jefferson street broke down a shelf in the cellar and immolated six jars of preserves. He gazed on the ruins without a sigh, caught and killed the rat, laid it among the debris, and daubing his faithful dog's nose and legs with the fruit sent him up stairs, while the boy hid in the coal shed. He heard feminine shrieks of dismay, he heard the wrathful objurgations of his sire, he heard the unsuspecting dog led into the back yard and shot, and, spreading forth his hands, said solemnly: "Another victim of circumstantial evidence."

An English technical periodical points out an easy way of testing whether water is good and fit for general use. It says, Good water should be free from color, unpleasant odor and taste, and should quickly afford a lather with a small portion of soap. If half a pint of the water be placed in a perfectly clean colorless glass stoppered bottle, a few grains of the best white lump sugar added, and the bottle freely exposed to the daylight in the window of a warm room, the liquid should not become turbid even after exposure for a week or ten days. If the water becomes turbid, it is open to the grave suspicion of sewage contamination; but if it remain clear it is almost certainly safe. We owe to Heisch this simple, valuable but hitherto strangely neglected test.

Three boys at Oswego Falls, N. Y., were playing recently, when two of them became angry at the third and determined to hang him. They selected a convenient limb and strung their unhappy victim mercilessly up and on, and then sat down to see him die. But the victim did not intend giving up the ghost so rapidly, for he clung to the rope tenaciously and struggled violently to free himself. At length one of the tormentors became impatient. The victim did not die quick enough to suit him, so instead of awaiting the gradual approach of the grim monster he determined to expedite matters, and started to a house near by to borrow an ax with which to cut off the victim's head. The neighbor learning what the ax was wanted for alarmed the neighborhood, and among them the victim's mother, and they all rushed to the grove and cut down the victim, alive.

PERSONAL NOTES

A private dispatch from Hon. [illegible] [illegible]

The condition of Hon. John P. Hale, of New Hampshire, has lately much improved, and his [illegible] than at any other time since the fall by which he fractured his hip. The parts of the bone seem to be slowly uniting, and it is thought probable that he will after all fully rally from the prostration in which the accident left him. Of course he will remain practically crippled, but considering the nature of the accident and his age and recent state of health, even this outcome is quite remarkable and betokens considerable vitality yet remaining.

OREGON

The [illegible] crop of Clackamas was never so good before as this season.

Work on the Clackamas bridge below Oregon City is progressing very rapidly.

The Yamhill Democratic Convention will meet at Lafayette on the 29th August.

Circuit Court for Clackamas county will meet the fourth Monday in September.

Seventy thousand pounds of wool have been shipped from the Eugene depot this season.

A Mr. Culver proposes to engage in the hosiery manufacturing business at Oregon City.

Wheat is coming into market at Eugene in considerable quantities. Sixty-five cents is the ruling market price.

A red clay of peculiar grain and color is troubling the learned heads of the Society of Natural History at Salem.

Miss Sarah Athey and Miss Katie Hunsaker have been elected as the female teachers for the Oregon City Seminary.

The Oregon Steamship Co.'s steamer Alice, burned to the hull last spring in the Oregon City Basin, is being rebuilt.

A special term of the Circuit Court for Marion county, Judge Bonham presiding, has been in session the past week.

Wheat at Lafayette has been fluctuating from 75 cents up to 83 cents during the past week. It is now steady at 83 cents.

A son of Robert Ford, Esq., dropped to the ground insensible while at work in the harvest field, on the Luckiamute in Polk county, last Friday, from sunstroke.

The Hawk Eye says: "A fellow not a thousand miles from here, stole a widow's calf. She sued him and recovered the calf and $30. So much for trifling with a woman's calves."

Columbia Conference of the M. E. Church South begins at Brownsville, in Linn county, on September 3d. Bishop Doggett, of Richmond, Va., will arrive in a few days and will preside.

The Lafayette Academy will reopen, on the 15th of September, under the charge of Prof. J. M. Smith, who is an old and experienced school teacher, and comes highly recommended.

The Baptist Church in the Willamette District numbers 465 members, 43 were received during the year by baptism, 40 by letter; 10 by relation and two restored. It shows a healthy state of the church.

This has been the worst season for rattlesnakes ever known in Oregon since the whites came here. We have heard of another killed at the Dalles with 14 rattles. These reptiles have always been very scarce in our State.

The citizens of Lafayette are rapidly pushing ahead the work of obtaining subscriptions for the new bridge across the Yamhill at that place. Already some five or six hundred dollars have been subscribed in Lafayette.

A watch was last Saturday stolen from John Circle, of Albany. Suspecting who the thief was, Mr. C. called upon him next day, when, by dint of threats of legal punishment, he prevailed upon the nimble-fingered [illegible] to fork over.

The Directors of the Albany and Santiam Canal Company held a meeting last Tuesday and resolved to push the work to completion as fast as possible. They expect to have the canal opened to Albany before the winter rains set in.

Another season will doubtless witness the erection of a fine brick hotel on the site of the one recently burned at Corvallis, when the town will have resumed a more beautiful appearance than she wore before devastated by the fiery scourge.

A movement is on foot in Corvallis for the erection and operation in that city of a first-class steam merchant flouring mill, an institution of great convenience to our citizens, and one which will amply compensate the necessary outlay of capital.

A large barn, belonging to Mr. T. J. Dunton, of Camp Creek, in Lane county, was destroyed by fire last Monday. The barn was full of hay and grain and the saddest feature of all was a fine pair of team horses were burned in the barn. This loss will fall heavily on Mr. Dunton.

At a regular meeting of Eugene Lodge No. 149, the following officers were installed by D. G. W. C. T., B. F. Gleason: O. A. Tibbetts, W. C. T.; Miss Emma Pearce, R. H. S.; Miss J. S. Brown, L. H. S.; Miss Emma Benedict, W. V. T.; James Abrams, W. S.; B. F. Gleason, W. F. S.; Mrs. H. Harington, W. T.; I. C. Richardson, W. C.; Miss C. Killingsworth, W. A. S.; Miss Theora Macy, W. I. G.

Wm. Smith, who lives about one and a half miles from Eugene, is a loser to the amount of about $100, by fire supposed to have come from the smoke stack of a passing railroad engine. The loss was in standing wheat and fencing and a great portion of his crop, and there is no telling how much of the surrounding country was only saved by a strip of unripe grain which fortunately stood in the course of the fire.

Reports from the country say the yield of oats for Marion county this season will be unusually large. The indications are favorable also for the farmers to secure a paying price for this cereal. Mr. Hoffman, a gentleman engaged in farming near Salem, was offered by certain parties from Portland 35 cents per bushel for 1,000 bushels of new oats, and we believe contracted for that number of bushels at the price stated.

From information obtained from the Assessor it appears there is in Yamhill county the following amount of stock: Horses over one year old, 3442; cattle over one year old, 7,884; sheep over one year old, 17,807; hogs 5,424. The following number of sheep were killed from March 7th, 1872, to August 1st, 1873: By dogs, 644; by wolves, 1,225; by other animals, 42. The total value of property in Yamhill county is $1,891,643.

The Albany Democrat says: "B. Goldsmith, Esq., informs the Astoria Farmers' Warehouse Company that all boats will be passed through the locks of the Willamette at the following rates: Empty boats or loaded with less than twenty tons, $10; where the freight exceeds twenty tons, fifty cents per ton will be charged, the boat itself being exempt from the tariff. We understand that Capt. Crew, of Astoria, will shortly begin the construction of a vessel which he designs running between Albany and Astoria as a freight boat."

The Salem State [illegible] of Friday says: "Last evening about [illegible] o'clock Mr. Wm. Trotter had occasion to go to the rear of the store of Mr. N. N. [illegible], in which he is employed, and discovered that extensive preparation had been made to fire that portion of the city. Paper and other material thoroughly saturated with coal oil, and a man discovered in the act of applying the match was seen but left in short order. Several special police were employed to watch the city and we hope to have the pleasure of recording the fact that they have shot the dastardly wretch in to-morrow's issue."

An old man named John W. Jackson, residing in the eastern part of Clackamas county, disappeared, so the Enterprise is informed, rather mysteriously about two weeks ago. He left his home and was going to the woods to gather honey. On the following day his horse returned home, the bucket fastened on the saddle, without any honey, but nothing has, up to last Monday, been heard of Jackson. His disappearance cannot be accounted for, but he may turn up all right yet.

Albany knows now how rapidly small-pox rumors spread. Some one reported that the postmaster there was sick with smallpox [illegible] Monday morning, and "before noon" the Democrat says the people for miles around [illegible] informed that we had smallpox in [illegible] averaging from one to twenty cases. The [illegible] sequence was that during the current [illegible] few country people have been in the city, and our streets have been almost as deserted [illegible] ruins of Pompeii. In the meantime, [illegible] Raymond, the postmaster, is up and [illegible] attending to his mail bags, as usual.

Last Tuesday, while a [illegible] engaged in backing up a [illegible] car to [illegible] mill, in Albany, the train got [illegible] headway on the down grade [illegible] as to render futile the [illegible] men to check it, and [illegible] the [illegible] struck the corner of the mill, [illegible] track, with terrific force, [illegible] car into the mill [illegible] and [illegible] into all sorts of pieces. The [illegible] shook the stalwart old mill [illegible] foundation, causing the [illegible] terra firma to [illegible] the [illegible] earthquake.

SATURDAY MORNING AUGUST 23 1873

DO NOT NEGLECT THE OPPORTUNITY.

We have called attention several times before to the importance of Republicans attending their primary elections. This is the place where the nominations are made The Conventions do nothing but ratify the action of the primaries and the popular election is little else than a matter of form to ratify the nominations of the Convention This is the plain practical point whatever may be the theories upon which it may be attempted to reason to a different conclusion

From present appearances one would be led to suppose there will be nothing done by anybody to have the people properly represented We do not recollect ever to have witnessed such entire indifference to an important election before This ought not to be. The election of Congressman to fill the vacancy now existing is an election of a member for almost a full term We shall elect a new member next June but he will not take his seat till March, 1875 The man elected this fall will take his seat at the convening of Congress, the first Monday of December, and hold through two entire annual sessions not to speak of possible extra sessions The official term of Judge Wilson, the people's Congressman, had barely commenced and he had never been in Congress during a session, when his death caused the present vacancy

The people have long been ignored in the proceedings of political parties in Portland, and now with a little activity they can certainly choose their own delegates, and by so doing elect their own candidate for Congress This should not be neglected Action is the only remedy for the wrongs they have suffered, and never for years has there been so favorable a time for effectual action as now. Republicans of Portland, go to the primaries and vote, and you will see the fruits of your action in a better state of things than heretofore At all events, you will feel conscious of having done your duty as citizens, and of deserving to be dealt fairly with. You would as well have some part and lot in the nominations of the State, as to be always ridden by a ring

GIVE HIM A CHANCE

Our good friend Ben Simpson respectfully declines to run for Congress This is right. We are glad of it upon personal grounds. Owing to a perturbed state of mind we committed the youthful indiscretion when the matter was first mentioned, of [illegible] ourselves to his support, only reserving the right to give a preference to [illegible] of a thousand or so of others besides him. Two hundred more or less, of [illegible] having now announced themselves as candidates we should have felt compelled to go back on Benjamin if he had not declined, which would be decidedly unpleasant. And now Benjamin [illegible] to button-hole, every third [illegible] on the street for his support, we propose to do Benjamin a real [illegible] if we can. We therefore tender [illegible] our unqualified support for the position of Post Trader at Fort Walla Walla (which the same he is going for), and we have not the slightest reason to doubt that our support will be [illegible], owing to the intimate personal [illegible] between ourselves and Mitchell nee Hipple Benjamin [illegible] peculiar qualifications for a position of that sort—better, if any odds, than for Congressman He was once an Indian Agent, which is something like a Post Trader if we are correctly informed, and we recollect Mr. Scott's saying in 1866 through the Oregonian, of which he was then Editor, that Benjamin's Indian agency had made him "a very respectable [illegible] over and above his debts, liabilities and property exempt from execution" We are told Benjamin has had the misfortune to lose somewhat of this respectability since then, a considerable portion of which loss occurred in connection with the [illegible] efforts of him and his friends to defeat Governor Gibbs, the Republican caucus nominee for U S Senator, and we sympathize with Benjamin in these circumstances—can't help it. By all means give Benjamin a show to retrieve his fallen fortunes

A NEEDED ENTERPRISE

One of the needs that have been felt by our merchants for some time, is a telegraph from Portland to Astoria and Cape Disappointment. Arrival and departure of ships is a matter that always interests [illegible] men, especially merchants. With a line of telegraph between this city and Astoria this intelligence would always be at hand. And besides this, the growing business and population of Clatsop county render Astoria an important point of general trade. A wire between this city and that point would have a very considerable amount of business to do if indeed it would not pay from the first And it is well known that the business of a telegraph line, in any section of the country increases more rapidly for a long period after its erection than the general business and population of the particular locality Thus it is that places which furnish but little occasion for the use of the telegraph when it first comes, afterwards and without any remarkable growth in other respects become points of considerable business in telegraphing

To connect a line from Astoria with that already in existence far down the Columbia on the Washington Territory side would, we are informed upon what we deem pretty reliable authority, cost not to exceed $12,000 One estimate puts it as low as $10,000 Whether the investment of that amount of money in the enterprise would pay in direct receipts, no one can say with absolute certainty, but the probabilities are against the proposition The great convenience of such a line to both Portland and Astoria, and especially to the farmers should be regarded as some consideration for the investment Both these places could afford to contribute to aid in the accomplishment of the enterprise

The ring headquarters seem to be at Clatsop Scott & Co went down and came up Why did Dan meet them at the boat? Was it to ascertain whether they made the old man come out?

AFTER THE UNFAITHFUL

The Massachusetts Labor Reform Convention have attacked the members of the Legislature of that State for violating the pledges they made before their election to secure the adoption of the eight hour system. They declare the candidates of the old parties made false promises to secure the votes of the working people and that the part of wisdom is to avoid being fooled a second time by the same men They therefore pledge themselves to vote against all candidates who have heretofore broken faith with them and to support heartily those who did their endeavors to secure the promised law By this means they propose to rid the Legislature in the course of time of all politicians who act upon the Stutzheim maxim that before and after election are different things and then the good time will have come and with honest Legislators and only eight hours to labor the people will be happy They may succeed in getting this project through by this means during their present generation but we shall be just a little skeptical about it till we see better indications than any yet observed

The Providence Journal says the sentiment in Rhode Island against removing the property qualification for naturalized voters is almost unanimous among Democrats as well as Republicans and that every effort to remove it has only left it stronger than before Its effect upon the foreign population has been excellent large numbers of the latter having purchased homesteads which have not only been a good investment in a pecuniary point of view but have also given their owners a position and importance which they could have obtained in no other way

The ruling passion is strong in death Senator Mitchell—we suppose it is Mitchell now—is a ward politician by instinct We noticed him yesterday busily engaged with divers of the fellows whom he was accustomed to use in times past in the execution of his jobs in primary and ward elections He will doubtless be on the streets to-day "plying his avocation

Portland Oregon Aug [illegible] 18[illegible]

Mr Samuel Corwin—Sir In justice to myself and [illegible] with the small pox I am induced to give publicity to the following facts About the 30th of July I became very unwell having severe pain in my head back and [illegible] which continued increasing in severity for three or four days when a slight fever set in and I began to break out on my face neck and body with what proved to be small pox I procured of Dr Freeland of the Central Drug Store a bottle of your small pox remedy Notwithstanding the severity of the attack I administered the medicine myself [illegible] directions [illegible] In three days all pain and fever disappeared My recovery was extremely rapid notwithstanding the [illegible] exposures by moving about from place to place while in a high fever which is generally considered fatal in that disease and it is my firm conviction that under the ordinary treatment for that disease I would not be living to day I took of the medicine about two and a half bottles more perhaps than was necessary not wishing to discontinue until a thorough cure was effected

The Daily Oregon

CITY.

The Daily Oregonian.

SATURDAY MORNING, AUGUST 23, 1873.

CITY.

REMARKABLY GENEROUS.—We are in receipt of a circular from a certain gun manufactory situated somewhere east of the Alleghanies, which makes the following truly magnanimous offer to furnish one of their celebrated guns to the editor. They offer to send "one of their best" (as a matter of course) for the modest sum of $86. They also send an electrotyped plate of the gun (two squares in length). This plate they ask shall be inserted in the paper (daily of course) for one year. A number of local puffs"—furnished by them—must also be published at regular intervals in addition. For this amount of advertising, the company agree to make the astonishing reduction of $45 from the price of the gun. The remaining $41 which is due on the gun the company ask to have promptly forwarded by express to them. Of course the poor editor must pay charges on this gun, and also on the $41 which he remits. In addition the editor is required to send a copy of the daily for one year to the company as a portion of the contract. Now it would certainly strike the average editor that it would not pay extensively to take one of these "celebrated guns" on the above conditions as the following figures will indicate. First the price per year of a two square advertisement is $72; second to publish "locals" whenever desired, would at least be worth say $40, third, the freight on the gun and the express charges on the $41 would probably be worth $15; fourth, the price of the daily furnished for one year would be $10. Thus we see that one of these "celebrated guns" would cost the poor editor the round little sum of $137. Like ourselves, we presume that not many editors on this coast or any other coast will be able to see the immense bargain which can be made by such a transaction. If a fellow must defend himself, let him buy a cheap iron, or if he must hunt, let him borrow a fowling piece. It is less expensive.

NEW FIRE ENGINES.—In view of the late fire, naturally, considerable public interest is felt as to when the two new steam fire engines, which were ordered some months ago by the city, for Willamette Co. No. 1, and Columbia Co. No. 3, should arrive here. This feeling is participated in by the respective companies, though in a much greater degree, as a certain measure of pride stimulates the members. Simultaneous with the order for the large, new and elegant steamer for Multnomah No. 2, the orders for the other two engines were forwarded. As announced at the time, the order for the first mentioned steamer was sent to the Silsby Manufacturing Company at Seneca Falls, New York, and the two latter to the Amoskeag Works at Manchester, New Hampshire. The order for Multnomah was very promptly filled, and the new steamer arrived on the first of July. Some delay has been occasioned in the filling of the orders forwarded to the other Company and the steamers have not yet been finished. This detention, we are informed, is caused by the great rush of work. A short time since a letter was received from the Secretary of the Company stating that they were thronged with orders from all portions of the world and were unable to furnish steamers as fast as desired. Two hundred operatives were kept constantly employed in turning off work, and this force was found to be inadequate to meet the demand. The letter also stated that the orders from this city should be filled as soon as possible. It was thought that the steamers would be completed and shipped during the latter part of September or by the first of October. Both steamers will be shipped at once; also one large hose cart. This delay will be borne with some degree of impatience by the two companies, but will enable them to complete every arrangement to receive the steamers and house them with the customary ceremonies usual on such occasions.

AN A[illegible].—In the local column of yesterday's Bulletin appeared a statement that a member of the Common Council had stated at the last meeting of that body, in substance, that the draymen of the city endeavored to make money out of the misfortunes of those who were burned out by the fire of August 2, by charging exorbitant rates for their services. The Bulletin's reporter must have remarkable hearing. Nobody else heard any such remarks as those [illegible] by the Bulletin's reporter, and even he, it appears, did not hear them in time to have them in the next morning's [illegible], when his regular report of the Council [illegible] occurred. The fact is the reporter in question drew upon his imagination for his [illegible] and they were not facts when they came.

TACOMA-WARD.—Along the line of the railroad from Tenino toward the terminus, work is being pushed rapidly and with all vigor forward. Track-laying is moving on with that degree of celerity which the condition of the road will permit. Only about eight or ten miles intervene between Tacoma and the advance force of track-layers. Graders in large numbers are making the dirt fly in all directions, and have reached within a few miles of Tacoma. Timber, brush, logs, etc., have all been removed clear through, and nothing now obstructs or [illegible] the rapid progress of the graders. Within a week the grade will be finished, and the track will soon thereafter be placed down and cars will run through from Kalama.

CALLS FOR COMPLETION.—The handsome little craft Beaver, which was launched from the ways on Thursday has not yet been brought down to the lower wharf to receive the machinery. The contract calls for the completion of the woodwork by the 10th of September. Mr. Steffens, the contractor, is crowding the work forward at a rate which promises the completion of his part of the contract by at least two weeks before the date mentioned. In a few days the Beaver will be towed down opposite the Willamette Iron Works, when the [illegible] will be completed, and painted, and the boiler and machinery afterwards placed in position.

LARGE EGGS.—A well known gentleman in this city placed on our table yesterday an egg of very unusual size. The gentleman is the owner of a hen of the Brahmin breed, which lays regularly every day one of these large eggs. The oviary before us is 7½ inches in circumference the long way, and 6¾ inches around the short. In dimensions, it is but little below the average goose egg. Nearly all the eggs laid by this hen have double yolks, and occasionally one which has three. Whether or not this hen lays a golden egg, she certainly is a valuable fowl to possess.

HURT.—Mr. Cris. Scloth the butcher met with a severe accident on Thursday. He was driving a band of sheep above Oregon City and coming towards this place. His horse took fright and threw him to the ground. The force of the fall broke Mr. Scloth's collar bone and otherwise injured him. Yesterday he was brought to this city and medical attendance called. Mr. Scloth will probably be confined to his bed for several days in consequence of the injuries.

SLOWLY COMING IN.—Circuit Court for this county will convene in October, but still new cases continue to come in very slowly. Scarcely a dozen cases have as yet been placed upon the docket for disposal at the coming term. However this is not equivalent to saying that but little legal business will be transacted. From the last term of court about 100 cases of law and chancery suits remain untouched, which will come up for disposition at the next term.

NEW HALL.—The new hall which is in process of construction by Mr. J. S. Keller for Nonpareil Lodge I. O. G. T., is going ahead finely. This hall will probably be ready for dedication in the course of a month or so. For the present, until the new hall is ready for occupancy, the Lodge holds its regular meetings at the rooms of the Commercial College.

HELD TO ANSWER.—Stillman Lewis, who was examined before Justice Ryan on Thursday, charged with the crime of embezzling funds to the amount of $451, was held yesterday to answer the charge before the grand jury in the sum of $300. Up to the present writing, the defendant had not obtained the required bonds.

FOR THE SOUND.—Reed's Panorama, owned by Messrs. Towl & Hawkins, will leave this morning for Olympia. From thence the panorama will be exhibited at all the towns along the Sound, and afterward at Victoria. It will then return to this State in time to be on exhibition at the Fair.

LECTURE.—B. F. Underwood, of Boston, will lecture on Sunday evening (to-morrow) at Oro Fino Theater, commencing at 2 o'clock P. M., and at 8 o'clock P. M. The subject of the evening lecture will be "Naturalism vs Supernaturalism." Lecture free. All are invited to attend.

DELEGATES.—At a meeting of the Vestry of St. Paul's (Episcopal) Church at Oregon City, the following gentlemen were elected delegates to the Annual Convocation to be held in this city next Thursday: Hon. John Myers, Capt. F. H. West and A. Noltner.

ADMINISTRATOR'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE.—A. B. Richardson sells to-day at 2 o'clock P. M., at the Court House door, a valuable block in East Portland, block 161, belonging to the estate of W. E. Cooper, deceased. To be sold in one parcel.

CIRCUS.—John Wilson's great circus will appear in this city next Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings. After which Mr. Wilson will make a tour of the sound, returning to the State Fair.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

If it gets much cooler fires will have to be renewed.

The new vault for the First National Bank is almost completed.

Light overcoats were a desirable article to possess last evening.

Only one steamer running daily between Portland and Vancouver.

Twenty-five excursionists will leave this morning for Salmon river.

A large quantity of hay was brought up yesterday evening on the Calliope.

The Board of Equalization will meet on Monday to adjust and equalize taxes.

No more new cases of smallpox reported in the city. It will be cheering news to all.

The bridal party that came from Olympia on Wednesday, returned home on Friday.

A beautiful fawn about two months old was brought up from the Lower Columbia yesterday.

A number of immigrants who arrived on the last steamer left yesterday for the Sound country.

This weather will bring back the pleasure-seekers who have been enjoying themselves hugely on the coast.

Mr. Taylor, the young man who is sick with smallpox in East Portland, is said to be in a very critical condition.

The W. R. T. Co.'s shingle hangs out over the entrance to the wharf at the foot of B street, yet no boats are running.

Vivian was compelled to give up his proposed traveling tour on account of illness. He was in San Francisco on the 16th.

The Democrats of the Third Ward will meet this evening at 6 o'clock at No. 1's stable to elect delegates to the County Convention.

After suspending for more than a month, music will again be furnished at the Central Market. This evening the East Portland Band will play there.

Jack Sheppard, the pedestrian, is walking for a wager at the City Gardens, San Francisco. Nearly 42 days from the time of commencing will pass around ere the task is completed.

The freight train which arrived at the east side depot on Thursday evening, consisted of twenty cars, principally wheat, wool and flour. The freight train going south yesterday consisted of fifteen cars.

PERSONAL.

Rev. J. W. Miller, of Walla Walla, will probably spend to-morrow at the Powell valley campmeeting. He is at present in the city.

The Rev. Dr. Julius Eckman, for the past several years Rabbi of the Ahabi Sholum congregation of this city, has gone to San Francisco, he having accepted the pastorship of the Congregation Sherith Israel, of the latter city.

In a few weeks Parrish's new building will be completed and then J. Kohn & Co., will occupy one of the spacious storerooms. The absence of Mr. Charles Kohn, of this firm, is readily accounted for. He has gone to San Francisco for the purpose of selecting goods for the new store, and he knows just what is wanted.

Mr. Charles A. Hughes, who has for several years past been in the employ of the Oregon and California Railroad Company, and had the direct superintendence of the steam sawmill below the city, will take his departure to-day from Astoria, on the bark Forward. He will first visit Australia, touching at Sydney and Melbourne, and return via Japan. He will probably be absent from six to eight months.

Among the passengers on the steamer John L. Stephens, which sailed yesterday morning for San Francisco, we observe the name of Mr. James Field, who departs for a permanent residence at his old home in New York. Mr. Field came here in 1850, and although he has not been engaged in active business for some years, he has endeared himself to those who knew him best, as a man of rare truthfulness, integrity and high sense of honor. His simple word was as good as the best securities. He was plain and unassuming in all his habits, thoroughly transparent, free from duplicity, and one of the salt of the earth. We regret his departure, because there is need of such men in our community. However, since he has left us, our best wishes for the happiness of Mr. Field and his family follow him.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

In another column appears the card of Peter Burk, who has just recovered from a severe attack of the small-pox. He states that he is indebted to "Corwin's Celebrated Small-pox Remedy," for his recovery, more than to anything else. Read the card.

After many weeks of preparation the storeroom of B. L. Stone, the jeweler has been completed and to-day that gentleman will open the largest, finest and certainly the most gorgeous assortment of watches jewelry, silverware, clocks, etc., ever presented to the attention of the citizens of this city. The arrangement of the store has been made with a view to display goods to the best possible advantage and nothing is wanting to add to its attractiveness. Mr. Stone has had the opportunity to select from the best goods manufactured, through an agent who was sent here at his express wish, and well he has done. We have only to say that the establishment will rank with the best on the coast and our citizens will be afforded a grand treat when they inspect the new store and the goods therein. Mr. Stone has our best wishes for future success and well he deserves it.

MT. RAINIER ON CANVAS.

In the store of Geo. A. Steel & Co., in this city is an oil painting representing Mt. Rainier, which certainly reflects credit upon the young artist, Mr. Parrott of Salem, by whom it was painted. The view is from a point about fifteen miles northeast of the mountain, where the lofty peak can be viewed against the sky in bold clear outline, affording a splendid copy for the artist, who went to the spot to get the picture on his mind. He claims that the picture is true to nature as to the outlines, correctly representing the landscape in the foreground and the contour of the mountain peak. As an artist, we are informed that Mr. Parrott is self-made entirely, and thoroughly critical eyes might detect a lack of classic touch in some portions of the creations of his hand, but we believe none would claim that the effort in question is without great merit. We have no doubt that with a cultivation of his talents in the line of painting, Mr. Parrott would become eminent, and we shall expect to hear from him in the world of art sooner or later. Those of our citizens who would see this fine painting should call at Mr. Steel's. The picture is the largest that has been painted in Oregon of any of our mountains, being 7x9 feet in size.

SPECIAL CHURCH NOTICES.

There will be no service in the Unitarian Church to-morrow, and no service of the Sunday School, in consequence of repairs being made to the interior of the building.

Rev. H. Gans will preach in the German language to-morrow at 9:30 A. M., in the vestry of the Presbyterian Church, corner Third and Washington streets. Sabbath School in the German language every Sabbath at the same place at 2 o'clock P. M.

RELIEF COMMITTEE.

The Relief Committee held an adjourned meeting last evening at the office of Messrs. Ladd & Tilton.

The meeting was called to order by the President Mr. Ladd.

By request, the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

The Chairman reported that Messrs. Reed & Towl had contributed to the Relief Fund the sum of $5. The expenses incurred at the exhibition of the panorama were in excess of the proceeds, but those gentlemen generously contributed the above sum out of their pockets.

Mr. Ladd also stated that he had received $10 from some anonymous person who had subscribed himself or herself "A Friend." The money had been sent by Mr. Whitelaw Reid, managing editor of the Tribune, at the request of the contributor.

Mr. Caldwell, Chairman of the Disbursing Committee, reported that up to the present time, the total amount of appropriations for the sufferers was $10,828. About 150 warrants had been issued thus far.

Mr. Ladd stated in behalf of the Disbursing Committee, that in almost every instance where assistance was applied for and the desired sum specified by the applicant, that amount had, with but few exceptions been paid over, or disbursed by the Committee. In some cases he had heard the action of the Disbursing Committee animadverted upon and dissatisfaction expressed. The Committee had exercised all the caution possible in ascertaining who were deserving subjects of public charity. But with all the care and faithful diligence exercised by the Committee, they had been imposed upon by persons making fraudulent representations in several instances. He felt assured, and he thought the public ought to feel so too, that the Committee had done all in their power to relieve want whenever and wherever it was satisfactorily shown that persons were really in want. The Committee had had impositions practiced upon them, and it was but right and proper that care should be exercised. The Committee had performed with strict fidelity their duties, and it was in justice to them and to their actions that he had made any allusion to the matter at all.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE.

Mr. Parrish, Chairman of the Committee on Entertainments, stated that the Committee was ready to report in relation to the Relief Concert which was given last Tuesday evening.

The Chairman said that if no objections were to be offered, the meeting was ready to hear the report. There being none, Mr. Parrish submitted the following:

PORTLAND, August 22d, 1874.

To W. S. Ladd, Chairman, and the members of the Portland General Relief Committee—Gentlemen: Your Committee appointed on Entertainments report the net proceeds of the concert of Tuesday evening last at $451. Of the above amount $25 50 was realized from the sale of bouquets as follows: By Chas. E. Ladd, $8 75, Horace Thielsen $8 25, Martin Winch, $7 25, Thos. Leahy, $1 25.

The Committee are under obligations to Messrs. B. F. Goodwin, B. Schloss and A. Long for services rendered; to the OREGONIAN, Bulletin and Evening News for favorable notices and advertising; to Mr. A. G. Walling, Geo. H. Himes & Co. and Bulletin job office for printing; to J. K. Gill & Co. for paper furnished; to the Masonic Hall Association for use of the hall; to the Portland Gas Light Company for use of gas, to Portland Dray and Hack Company for carriages, to Allsky & Hegele for ice, and to all the ladies and gentlemen who assisted in making the entertainment a success, not omitting the gentlemanly ushers and Mr. Pope the keeper of the Masonic Hall.

C. W. PARRISH,
EMIL FRANK,
H. H. CARPENTER,
Committee.

After the reading of the report, on motion of Mr. Wasserman, it was accepted and the committee instructed to return the thanks of the Relief Committee to the public, and particularly those mentioned in the report.

CONTRIBUTION OF CLOTHING.

Mr. Ladd read the following letter which was received a few days ago by Messrs. Northrup & Thompson, of this city:

SAN FRANCISCO, August 9, 1873.

Mr. J. C. Patrick—Dear Sir:—We send you 166 yards of assorted warm dress goods, which we think will be suitable for the "Portland Sufferers." Trusting our donation will be acceptable, we are,

Yours, truly, J. W. DAVIDSON & CO.

This letter accompanied the case of goods referred to which was sent up from San Francisco, and is now at the store of that firm. The donation was accepted, and will be used by the Disbursing Committee as the necessities of the time may require.

On motion of Mr. Wasserman, the meeting adjourned subject to the call of the Chairman.

OUT DOOR SPORTS.

This afternoon the married and single elevens of the Cricket club play their first game before a Portland assemblage. The match takes place on the east side.

Warren, Pratt and Price, of the Clackamas club, will be down to-day, and with the assistance of six players from the Pacific club will play a practice game against the field. They expect to get a perfect understanding as to each others play, and will go in to win a ball from the Pioneers on the 30th.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Portland Turn Verein are making great preparations for a grand concert and ball which will be given at Aukeny's Hall on next Wednesday evening, the proceeds of which will be donated to the Relief Committee. The promised affair gives every assurance of being all that could be desired. In another column we publish in full the programme.

TO THE PUBLIC.

We are now getting on the way a new and fresh stock of fine furniture, which will be superior in quality and newer in design than the one destroyed by the fire, and which we will offer for sale on advantageous terms. Meanwhile, we are well prepared to supply the present demand from our temporary location, corner of Fifth and Taylor streets, near the U. S. Custom House. Respectfully,

HURGREN & SHINDLER.

SOME people may become excited over the "terminus" of the Northern Pacific Railroad, on Puget Sound, but it does not disturb Beck & Waldman, corner Front and Washington streets, in the least, as they intend to pursue the usual course to their customers, and that is to sell goods at prices which will enable those with limited means to provide themselves with good clothing at a very small outlay of money. Parents should bring their children to this house for neat-fitting suits.

All the year round, Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders should be given to horses that are "kept up." To horses and cattle that graze in summer they should only be given in winter and spring.

Officers and soldiers who served in the army, physicians, surgeons, and eminent men and women everywhere join in recommending Johnson's Anodyne Liniment to be the best internal and external family medicine ever invented. That's our experience.

LETTER FROM GEN. PILLOW.

Gen. Gideon J. Pillow has written a letter correcting some published statements concerning his surrender to the Union forces in Montgomery, Ala., in 1865, and closes it as follows:

Though I was without money, and though my gray Confederate uniform was worn and covered with dust, and dingy from its age and the service it had seen when I reached Montgomery, where I was thrown amid large numbers of Federal officers with brilliant uniforms, yet I was uniformly and always recognized with a respectful military salute by officers and privates of the Federal army, and was pressed with offers of money and everything else I needed by the distinguished officers above named, who had served with me in the Mexican war, yet I accepted no money—not one dollar—from any of them. But it is due to them to say that I could not have been treated with greater courtesy and kindness if I had been an officer of rank in the Federal army than I was. As the last surviving general officer of the regular army who served in the Mexican war, I take pleasure in saying that the bitterness engendered by the late civil war was not sufficient to erase the respect and friendship formed by the officers who fought in that war. And that though I committed what the Federal soldiers and Northern people consider a great error and grave crime by my services in the late war, yet I have never met a Federal officer, during or since the late civil war, who has failed to treat me with courtesy and respect, and duly to appreciate my services to the Government in the Mexican war. Among these, I am happy to mention the marked respect and kindness I have received from the great soldier, the present distinguished President of the nation, since he has been in his present exalted position, for whom it was my pleasure to give my humble vote against his competitor for the position he now occupies."

A READER ALIENATED.—A western contemporary thinks it smart to relate that an Iowa editor, recently, to keep up with the styles, ran away with another man's wife. He did not get off so easily, however, as he imagined he would. The man followed him and overtook the truant pair. The editor got behind the woman, and prepared to sell his life as dearly as possible. He was uncertain as to whether the outraged husband would shoot him or murder him with a carving-knife. He stood there like the boy on the burning deck, and calmly awaited the result. The outraged husband came up within about two feet of the editor and said: "Cuss your impudence; I want you to stop my paper." That was all. The editor recovered himself, and said he would have the matter attended to at once. During all the trying scene the woman stuck to the editor like a sand burr to a girl's stocking. Some people get mad and stop their paper for almost nothing. It beats all.

COLEMAN'S Dr. J. S. Coleman's Compound Extract of Eucalyptus is a preparation combining all the valuable medicinal qualities of EUCALYPTUS the Eucalyptus, which is cultivated in nearly every California garden for its medical utility, having become the household remedy for all diseases of the KIDNEYS, BLADDER and URINARY CANAL, and SEMINAL WEAKNESS. It seems to have a direct affinity for the GENITO-URINARY ORGANS and their surroundings, and cures them by its alterative, healing and balsamic properties more effectually than any other known remedy.

It is an invaluable remedy for all diseases of the mucous and serous membranes, such as BRONCHITIS, HACKING COUGH, NAUSEA DURING PREGNANCY, DYSPEPSIA, LEUCORRHŒA, etc.

This preparation is the result of Dr. Coleman's experiments with the medicinal properties of the tree in the U. S. Marine Hospital in San Francisco, in 1871 and 1872, where he had unusual facilities for testing the various methods of preparing the remedy, and its uses. It can be relied upon as certain to give the promised results, and hundreds of testimonials of its efficacy can be seen at his office, 405 Kearney street, San Francisco.

COLEMAN'S DOUBLE EXTRACT OF EUCALYPTUS is a powerful, yet harmless, febrifuge, and is a special preparation for the treatment of the malarious fevers of our interior valleys, and is warranted to cure any case of FEVER AND AGUE treated with it according to directions, while the baneful results of the usual Quinine and arsenical remedies of those diseases are entirely avoided.

FOR PHYSICIANS Coleman's Fluid Extract of Eucalyptus in 1-lb bottles.

EUCALYPTUS Beware of Imitations, and take none but COLEMAN'S. For sale everywhere, and by HODGE, CALEF & CO., Wholesale Druggists, Portland. Sole Agents for Oregon.

WHITHER?

BY KATE [illegible]

O vanished hours
Ye that are part of me and yet not mine
Lost utterly [illegible] as the flowers
That wither from the spring and leave no sign

Ye costly hours
Whose buds were with delight as sunshine fed
Watered with pain's wild thunder-bursting showers
With the best blood of life made strong and red

O bygone hours!
Are ye then wholly from us fled away
Or keep ye in some secret spot the flowers
Whose sweet remembrance [illegible]

Mysterious hours
When ye drop silent down life's ebbing tide
Is it as barques full freighted for the towers
That guard the city on the other side

Ah fleeting hours
Take from my life ungrudged its treasures then
If gathered in some future Eden's bowers
My longing eyes shall see them once again

DAN O'CONNELL AND MRS MORIARTY

AN OLD BUT GOOD STORY

It was at an Irish court of justice that Mr O'Connell could be seen to greatest advantage. Every quality of the lawyer and the advocate he displayed. He showed research and a perfect mastery of his profession and he exhibited his own great and innate qualities. Who that ever beheld him on the Munster circuit when he was in the height of his fame but must have admitted his prodigious versatility of formidable powers. His pathos was often admirable, his humor without effort or art. What jokes he uttered!—what sarcasms! How well he worked his case through, never throwing away a chance, never relaxing his untiring energies.

One of the drollest scenes of vituperation that O'Connell ever figured in took place in the early part of his life. Not long after he was called to the bar, his character and peculiar talents received rapid recognition from all who were even casually acquainted with him. His talent for vituperative language was perceived, and by some he was, even in those days, considered matchless as a scold. There was, however, at that time in Dublin a certain woman, Biddy Moriarty, who had a huckster's stall on one of the quays nearly opposite the four courts. She was a virago of the first order, very able with her fist, and still more formidable with her tongue. From one end of Dublin to the other she was notorious for her [illegible] of abuse, and even in the provinces Mrs. Moriarty's language had passed into currency. The dictionary of Dublin slang had been considerably enlarged by her, and her voluble impudence had almost become proverbial. Some of O'Connell's friends, however, thought that he could beat her in the use of her own weapons. Of this, however, he [illegible] doubts himself, when he had listened once or twice to some minor specimens of her [illegible]. It was mooted whether the young Kerry barrister could encounter her, [illegible] one of the company in O'Connell's [illegible], rather too freely ridiculed the idea of his being able to meet the famous Madame [illegible]. O'Connell never liked the idea of being put down, and he professed his readiness to encounter her, and even backed himself for the match. Bets were offered and [illegible] it was decided that the match should come off at once.

The party adjourned to the Huckster's stall, [illegible] was the owner herself superintending the sale of her small wares a few loungers [illegible] idlers were hanging round her [illegible] Biddy was a "character," and, in her way, was one of the sights of Dublin.

[illegible] was very confident of success. He [illegible] an [illegible] plan of overcoming her, and with all the anxiety of an ardent experi[illegible], waited to put it into practice. He [illegible] to open the attack. At this time O'[illegible]'s own party and the loungers about [illegible] an audience quite sufficient [illegible] Mrs Moriarty on public provocation, [illegible] exhibition of her powers. O'Connell [illegible] the attack:

"What's the price of this walking stick, Mrs. [illegible]-your-name?"

"Moriarty, sir, is my name, and a good one it is; and what have you got to say against it? [illegible] the price of the stick [illegible] so it is."

"[illegible] for a walking stick, [illegible] why you are no better than an [illegible] for what cost you [illegible]"

"[illegible] your grandmother," replied [illegible] "do you mane to say that it's cheating [illegible] Impudence, indeed!"

"[illegible] and it's that I call you to [illegible]" [illegible] O'Connell.

"[illegible] cut your [illegible], you cantankerous [illegible]"

"[illegible] a civil tongue in your head, you old [illegible]" cried O'Connell calmly.

"[illegible] your jaw, you pug nose badger; or by this and that," cried Mrs. Moriarty, showing her fists, "I'll make you go quicker nor you [illegible]"

"Don't be in a [illegible], my old radius; anger will only wrinkle your beauty."

"By the hokey, if you say another word of [illegible], I'll tan your dirty hide, you bastely [illegible] scrub; and [illegible] I'd be to soil my [illegible] your carcase!"

"Whew! boys, what a passion old Biddy is [illegible], as I'm a gentleman"—

"[illegible] Jintleman! the likes of you a [illegible] Wisha by gar that bangs Banagher. Why you potato faced pippin-sneezer, when did a Madagascar monkey like you pick enough of common christian decency to hide [illegible] brogue?"

"[illegible], now [illegible], now," cried O'Connell, with imperturbable good humor, "don't choke yourself with fine language, you old whisky drinking parallelogram."

"What's that you call me, you murderin' villain?" roared Mrs. Moriarity, stung into fury.

"I call you," answered O'Connell, "a parallelogram, and a Dublin judge and jury will say that it's no libel to call you so!"

"Oh, [illegible]! Oh, holy Biddy! that an honest woman like me should be called a parrybellygrum to the face. I'm none of your parrybellygrums, you rascally gallowsbird, you cowardly, sneaking, plate-lickin' bliggard!"

"Oh, not you, indeed!" retorted O'Connell, "why, I suppose you'll deny that you keep an [illegible] in your house?"

"It's a lie for you, you dirty robber. I never had such a thing in my house, you swindling thief!"

"Why, [illegible] all the neighbors know very well that you keep, not only an hypothenuse but that you go out to walk with him every Sunday, you heartless old heptagon."

"Oh, hear that, ye saints of glory! Oh, here's bad language from a fellow that wants to pass for a gintleman. May the devil fly away with you, you micher from Munster, and make celery sauce of your rotten limbs, you mealy mouthed tub of garbage."

"Ah, you can't deny the charge, you miserable submultiple of a duplicate ratio."

"Go rinse your mouth in the Liffey, you nasty tickle-pitcher: after all the bad words you speak it ought to be filthier than your face, you dirty chicken of Beelzebub."

"Rinse your own mouth, you wicked-minded old polygon. To the deuce I pitch you, you blustering intersection of a stinking superficies."

"You saucy tinker's apprentice, if you don't cease your jaw I'll——" But here she gasped for breath, unable to hawk up any more words, for the last volley of O'Connell had nearly knocked the wind out of her.

"While I have a tongue I'll abuse you, you most inimitable periphery. Look at her, boys! there she stands—a convicted perpendicular in petticoats! There's contamination in her circumference, and she trembles with guilt down to the extremities of her corollaries. Ah! you're found out, you rectilineal antecedent and equiangular old hag! 'Tis with you the old one will fly away, you porter-swiping similitude of the bisection of a vortex!"

Overwhelmed with the torrent of language, Mrs. Moriarty was silenced. Catching up a saucepan she was aiming at O'Connell's head, when he prudently made a timely retreat.

"You have won the wager, O'Connell; here's your bet," cried the gentleman who proposed the contest.

O'Connell knew well the use of sound in the vituperation, and having to deal with an ignorant scold, determined to overcome her in volubility by using all the hard sounding words which occur in Euclid. With these and a few significant epithets and a scoffing, impudent demeanor, he had for once imposed silence on Biddy Moriarty.

The carpet worm is a new pest just discovered. It is of dark color, less than a half an inch in length, and covered with fine hair. It makes havoc with carpets in a short time. It is said that fine salt or fine cedar chips sprinkled on the edges of carpets will protect [illegible]

Wheat in Liverpool—Average California 13s 11d a 14s 7d; Club 13s 8d [illegible]

There is no import of change in the prominent features of [illegible] The [illegible] market and the trade of the city is still what [illegible] the movement in financial matters is smaller than [illegible] some [illegible] except the circumstance that some considerable sums are being daily forwarded to the interior to purchase wheat. Still considering the season and that we are now passing through what is usually the [illegible] of the year [illegible] the [illegible] degree of [illegible] calendar [illegible] the expect [illegible] regarded as [illegible] All events in particular [illegible] the condition [illegible] others and though for extended loans the market is better [illegible] and unfavorable the demand [illegible] accommodations on short time with the right sort of paper and collaterals is met with some favor. As is customary around the period of marketing the new crop the banks are careful in the management of their business at large so as to keep their funds in a shape where they can be readily turned and made available at short notice.

Our advices from New York up to the 11th inst show the state of business though still under the influence of the summer dullness to be partially reviving. During the first half of August in that city as well as at other principal points the volume of capital seeking investment was largely in excess of the demand and a noticeable feature of the market was the increased offerings from outside banks. A Chicago paper says: "these institutions have been pressing bankers to take their money and allow them whatever rate of interest they could afford. Many of the country bankers are preparing for a pressure this Fall and Winter and it is this preparation that may avert or alleviate the stringency. The dearness of money last Winter and Spring has produced a very conservative feeling in regard to the future, and this too must have an important influence on the financial situation. In addition it is semi-officially announced from Washington that the Treasury will empty in good season all its currency resources to prevent any monetary stringency."

Trade in New York.

In reviewing the trade of New York, The Financial Chronicle of the 6th inst says:

"The volume of business, during the past week, has been perceptibly increased, and the current trade in full packages, is generally satisfactory. When it is borne in mind, that the opening of each successive season for the past few years, has been delayed to a period nearer the time for the beginning of the distribution than was formerly the custom, the present activity must be regarded as fully up to the reasonable expectations of dealers. The local jobbers have entered the market very generally, and have made large aggregate purchases both for their opening stocks and to meet their prospective wants. There has also been a more spirited inquiry from the interior, the buyers including a larger proportion of Western jobbers than have been in the market previously. The favorable outlook for the crops and present comparative ease of finances throughout the country have the tendency to make collections comparatively easy and at the same time encourage buyers from the interior to conduct their purchases with more spirit. All signs are hopeful at present and we look for a more satisfactory season in dry goods than has been experienced for some time past."

Trade of Our City.

The character of the leading merchandise markets in our city during the past week, both as relates to the volume of business and the general feeling in mercantile circles has been decidedly more satisfactory to jobbers than the week previous. It is true that some uneasiness has been manifested in some quarters for the opening of the fall trade, yet generally there is little or no anxiety over the prospective condition. On the contrary, there is visible in the movements of our merchants an implicit confidence that a marked increase in the movement of goods will be witnessed during the coming fall months, as compared with that of former seasons. Interior merchants, as a rule, are not now holding large stocks of goods, but will likely be making heavy orders for the approaching season's supply. Thus with an easier condition of finances, and the abundant harvests in all parts of the northwest coast, an improved price for home products, our merchants may anticipate a reasonably profitable business during the fall and earlier winter months.

Earnings of Railways.

The gross earnings of twenty four of the leading railways in the United States for July were $11 454,000, an increase of $1,232,000 over the corresponding month last year. Extending the comparison to cover the first seven months of the year we find the gross earnings of twenty two railroads to have been $74 980 000, an increase of $9,303,000 as compared with the same time last year. Such a large gain in the freight and passenger traffic of the country is a good indication of the prosperous condition of the business throughout the United States. The question of the cost of inland transportation is one of serious import, when we take into consideration the immense sum annually paid to the railway system. The gross earnings of the roads for 1873 bid fair to reach from $130 000,000 to $140,000 000 a large portion of which is paid for transporting of freight.

Coffee Market.

The San Francisco Bulletin says:

The position of the Coffee market is one of interest, not only in San Francisco but in all the leading commercial centers. The world's supply is unquestionably light, through partial failure of the crop in the last year or two while the yield for the current season is moderate. Rio Coffee has advanced 1½c ℔ in New York during the past week, reaching 20½c for prime lots by wholesale. The English market is equally firm. It is a noteworthy fact that New York buyers are now in London operating in cargoes on account of the United States. Such an anomalous condition of things is of rare occurrence. St. Louis and Chicago are in the San Francisco market with orders for Coffee, some of which have been recently filled, while others are below the limits of holders. We have at present a good supply of Coffee, but prospective receipts are light.

Grain Statement.

The New York papers publish a tabulated statement of the visible supply of grain, including the stocks in granary at the principal points of accumulation at lake and seaboard ports and the quantities in transit. The figures at best are of course only an approximation of the facts. The stocks thus represented on the 2d of August compare as follows with the same date last year:

	1872	1873
Wheat, bush	2 676 000	4 704,000
Corn	2 040 000	10 106 300
Oats	3 271 600	3 770 000
Barley	352 600	115 000

The stock of Wheat and Oats is less than for any preceding week in two months while the stock of Corn is larger. The difference between the stocks this year and last is noteworthy. The latest advices from the leading Wheat growing States of the Northwest show increased yields, the crop in Iowa, Wisconsin and Minnesota being without parallel. The yield in Minnesota last year was about 2 000 000 bushels.

Lumber in Peru.

A dispatch from Callao, Peru, dated July 11th quotes Puget Sound lumber rough at $45 per M and surfaced at $55. The ships Bremer and Elenore were at that time about to proceed to Puget Sound for cargoes of lumber.

Puget Sound Shipping.

The brig Tanner sailed from Port Gamble for Honolulu on the 18th.

The ship Panther left the same port the same day for Nanaimo.

The Coquimbo sailed from Port Townsend for Callao, Peru on the 16th with lumber.

NEW REMEDIES! NEW REMEDIES!

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established 1854 for the treatment of [illegible] and Seminal Diseases, [illegible] Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. [illegible] Diseases (of years standing) Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing he has returned from visiting the principal hospitals of Europe and has resumed practice at the dispensary, 623 Kearney street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgence, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at the pallid emaciated and disfigured faces and broken down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible, life-destroying maladies [illegible] cared for and cured before it be too late. Send immediately to DR. GIBBON, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. [illegible] important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors, who [illegible] all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by [illegible] the names of eminent physicians from [illegible] other places. Be therefore careful and make inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse.
